

Trade4SD

The main objective of this project is to contribute to build new opportunities for fostering the positive sustainability impacts of trade supported by improved design and framing of trade policy at national, EU and global level, including WTO modernization, increased policy coherence at different domains including agricultural, energy, climate, environmental and nutritional policies

 Find out more about Trade4SD podcast series!

This series will explore the role of international trade in promoting sustainable development. Each episode will feature experts and stakeholders discussing a range of topics, including trade and the environment, trade and poverty, and trade and human rights

 Subscribe now on YouTube and Spotify!

01. Interview with Zoltan Kun, Wilderness Advocate,

WCPA member, nature conservation specialist
In this episode, Zoltan Kun and Raniero Chelli talk about the importance of trade and how it can help to achieve the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

Listen on YouTube and Spotify!

02. Interview with Giovanni Ferri, Director of the Master in Management of Sustainable Development Goals at LUMSA University

In this episode, Zoltan Kun and Prof. Giovanni Ferri talk about the impacts of trade on agriculture, environment, and sustainable development, also in relation to climate change.

Listen on YouTube and Spotify!

Recent trends in GVC participation

by Attila Jambor, Jeremias Balogh,
Sandor Kovacs, Zalan Maro, Aron
Torok, Corvinus University of Budapest

Read more

Researchers from the University of Kent collaborating with University of Ghana to help increasing the sustainability of cocoa production and trade

by Sophia Davidova and Alexandra Kirtley, University of Kent

Read more